

MAPs FOR PARENTS IS THIS THURSDAY AT 6PM

I am certain that almost all of you have heard about MAPs testing or RIT scores. On Thursday, November 6th I will be hosting a parent evening dedicated to discussing MAPs (Measures of Academic Performance). I will focus on discussing what MAP testing actually is, why we do it, how we use it and the powerful connection it serves for our students and teachers. I hope you will join me for this informative evening. We will meet in the MPR at 6:00 PM.
